What do we do?	We are made aware of every dyslexic student should they wish to disclose this during the application process and if they attend college based courses they can access a wide range of support including scribes, pcs and ipads with additional tools and the more basic but universally recognised coloured overlays. College based students are encouraged to attend an ALN Phonics class to raise their phonological awareness. Students based in community groups are offered basic tools and offered advice as are project staff.
More details	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Assessment approaches are in line with SQA who allow for additional time and a scribe if need be for dyslexic students</li> <li>• Dyslexia awareness and teaching resources CPD and refresh is offered on an on-going basis to all college staff</li> <li>• Phonological awareness raising CPD session offered to all college staff</li> <li>• No specific target groups for dyslexia.</li> <li>• Referral routes: we sometime refer our students to the college's Student Services department who can offer the above detailed gadgets as well as 1:1 support sessions for dyslexic students. We also refer students to specific Dyslexia services in Glasgow.</li> <li>• All costs are covered by COGC</li> <li>• Key message is that Dyslexia is recognised by the college and support is available as part of our robust ED&amp;I policies and procedures.</li> <li>• We subscribe to the fact that dyslexia does not affect your intelligence and encourage students to grasp every opportunity afforded to them as a COGC student.</li> </ul>
