

A Journey into Space

My journey would take me back to the 1950's when space exploration was just beginning. I would like to help develop ideas that might allow people to travel through space and live on other planets.

I would like to travel to the moon and live there for the rest of my life.
That would be the best journey I could ever make.

Amir
Woodside

